

Office Plus

➔ Share information and increase collaboration, enhance reporting and analysis, adhere to XBRL requirements, and optimize key processes with Infor PM Office Plus.

Do business better.

To outperform the competition, companies need access to the right information at the right time. They must have the ability to collaborate and share that information throughout the organization in a variety of formats. Forward-thinking companies around the globe are using advanced technology to optimize business processes so they can keep decision makers at all levels—all with different information requirements—well-informed.

Leverage experience.

Drawing on more than 30 years of experience in performance management (PM), Infor™ has a proven track record of helping successful companies streamline and improve the effectiveness of their business processes. Infor PM Office Plus—an integral component of Infor PM 10—is a robust, scalable solution aimed at driving performance by giving information users the business intelligence they need to support more informed decision making. Office Plus delivers a powerful, flexible, and customizable Microsoft® Excel® add-in. It can also transparently access other Infor PM 10 components, Microsoft SQL Server® Analysis Services, and Infor Open SOA (service-oriented architecture). This allows you to report and analyze data in Excel without needing multiple tools or having to deal with time-consuming imports. You can create snapshots of views and publish them to a global report repository, managing the security of the data and reports from a central location. Plus, Office Plus is designed to work with eXtensible Business Reporting Language (XBRL), so you can file XBRL-tagged versions of your financial statements.

Get business specific.

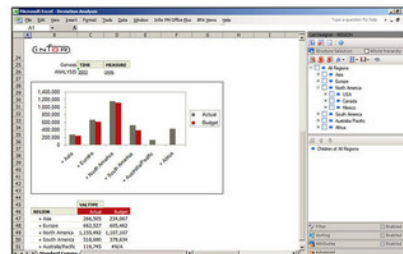

Infor PM Office Plus provides your company's decision makers with the meaningful reporting and analysis they require to monitor and control performance, leading to more-informed decisions.

Advanced reporting. Using all the functions of Excel, you can transform common analytic views into standard reports. You can also create basic to complex reports—even adding Excel charts or navigation menus—and then connect them to existing data sources in minutes. Office Plus reports maintain their professional layout with zero maintenance by automatically selecting the correct number of rows and columns for each query. Plus, wizards make it easy to create sophisticated reports such as trend analysis. Advanced users can also produce custom templates or adapt standard ones to corporate design, key performance indicators, and more. Since Office Plus is designed to work with XBRL, it's easy to create XBRL-ready financial statements and comply with local and global reporting requirements. Simply drag financial data and tag it to create an XBRL export. Combine Office Plus with Infor PM Financial Consolidation to fully automate your financial consolidation and reporting process.

Sophisticated information analysis. Sorting, ranking, color-coding, and other advanced analytic options help you assess information in seconds. Designed for business professionals, Office Plus lets you browse data by dragging and dropping desired elements into Excel. You can also zoom in to more detail on desired elements. By creating new or modifying existing models within the Excel environment, you'll keep the software in sync with changes without requiring IT support.

See results now.

Infor PM Office Plus allows you to make better decisions and optimize your business processes by fulfilling the information needs of decision makers within your company. This leads to greater ROI and low total cost of ownership. You can capitalize on this flexible solution to share information, increase collaboration, enhance reporting and analysis, and optimize key processes.
